- 4.2.5 Controlling of trainings on the competition court, of the competitions and of the announcement of winners

C) COMPETITION PROCEDURE

1. General Conditions

1.1. Kind of Competitions

Teams taking part in the 18th International Fire Brigade may compete in the following events:

The International Fire Brigades Competition consists of:

- Firefighting attack (dry) and
- Obstacle relay race

1.1. Rules

The rules adapted for the 18th International Fire Brigade Competitions will be those contained in the 8th edition 2025 of the competition rules for the International Fire Brigade Competitions.

The competitions rules and additional explanatory statements/supplements are available at the website: <https://ctif2026.at>

1.3 Teams

1.3.1 A team for the International Fire Brigade Competitions consists of 12 competitors (including 1 reserve, 2 attendant).

1.3.2 Other participants per nation:

- 1 Delegation Leader
- 1 Attendant (trainer)
- 1 Masseur
- 1 Interpreter

Each nation must be able to communicate in the official competitions language (German). Interpreters are housed in the competitors accommodation, the entry fee has to be paid.

2. Kind of Competitions and Scoring Groups

2.1. International Fire Brigade Competitions

Teams competing in the Traditional International Fire Brigade Competitions have to execute a fire fighting attack (dry) and to take part in an obstacle relay race in accordance with the rules fixed for the International Fire Brigade Competitions (8th edition 2025).

The teams are divided in 3 scoring groups:

- I. Scoring group Volunteer Fire Brigades

II. Scoring group Professional Fire Brigades

III. Scoring group Women

The Traditional International Fire Brigades Competition will be held in two scoring classes:

- Class A without age rating
- Class B with age rating

Teams are allowed to enter class B only if every team member is at least 30 years old (the same goes for the reserve man). Important for the age rating is the year of birth. Team members older than 65 years will only be counted with 65 years.

3. Apparatus and Equipment

3.1. Apparatus

According to the competition rules the fire brigade apparatus required for the performance of the competitions will be provided for all teams except the personal equipment of the firemen. For the International Fire Brigade Sporting Competitions the apparatus approved by the competition rules may be taken along.

3.2. Personal equipment

Personal equipment has to be taken along by every competitor. Details of the personal equipment are given in the competition rules.

4. Languages used for giving orders and directives

Each team will retain the language and wording customary for issuing orders and directives in their own language. A simultaneous start for all teams is performed at the firefighting competition of the Fire Brigade Competitions. Therefore, the combat order is spoken over loudspeakers (see 1.6 of the competition rules). At the Traditional International Fire Brigade Competitions obstacle race a starting pistol is used.

5. Training

5.1. Training grounds

To give all competitors a fair chance, the grounds will be made available for training three days before the competition is due to begin. There will be a sufficient number of referees available during these days to offer help and advice, in case language problems cause confusion about competition procedures.

5.2. Training timetable

Each country will be allotted to specific training periods which are laid down in a training schedule which will be drawn up as soon as all entries have been received. So for all teams an equal training time can be assured. Time study and judgment of training results will only be made on request of the respective teams.

6. Judging and Prizes

6.1. Judging

Competitors will be judged according to the established procedures.

6.1.1 Traditional International Fire Brigades Competitions

Scoring group I for Volunteer Fire Brigades

Class A (without age rating)

Class B (with age rating)

Scoring group II for Professional Fire Brigades

Class A (without age rating)

Class B (with age rating)

Scoring group III for Women Groups

Class A (without age rating)

Class B (with age rating)

Mixed teams (that means teams including men and women) are judged in category I or II.

6.2. Prizes

Medals and Competition bars will be issued in the traditional way.

6.2.1 All competitors, referees, trainers, team leaders, masseur and Interpreter.

6.2.2 All teams in all events and categories competing in the International Fire Brigade Competitions will receive the large International Competition medal. Teams ranging in the first third of overall scoring receive this medal in gold, the silver medal to those who are in the second third of overall scoring and the bronze medal to the rest.

6.2.3 Top three in each scoring group of the International Fire Brigade Competitions and are awarded a small medal in gold, silver and bronze.

7. Solemn Ceremonies

7.1. Opening ceremony

The opening ceremony will be carried in a solemn form and during this ceremony the competitors and judges speak their oath. Teams will march to the opening ceremony in alphabetical order according to the Austrian names of the competing countries. All teams of all nations will march up to the rostrum side by side in serried ranks. Further information and competition plans will be passed to all teams and other official competitors in time.

7.2. Announcement of winners

All teams attend the 18th International Fire Brigade Competitions announcement of winners. Further details will be announced to the participating teams and any other official participants, together with the competition schedules, in due time.

All winning teams will be honoured by the Patron of the competition and the President of the CTIF.

8. Competition Entries

8.1. Number of competition teams

8.1.1 For the Traditional International Fire Brigades Competition up to 10 competition teams are allowed per nation in scoring group I and II and additional three teams in the scoring group III (women). The scoring group III (women) can be extended to max. 6 teams. However, in total, not more than 13 are allowed per nation. The organizing nation may send one additional team. Mixed teams (men and women) will count either in scoring group I or II.

8.1.2 Each group consists of 12 members (including 1 reserve man, 2 attendant).

8.1.3 Other participants per nation:
1 Delegation Leader
1 Trainer (attendant) International Fire Brigade Competitions
1 Masseur
1 Interpreter

Each nation must be able to communicate in the official Competitions language (German). Both interpreters (adults / Cadet-Corps) per nation are housed in the competitors accommodation, the entry fee has to be paid.
